THE RASCALLY SENATE

The March number of the Cosmopolitan Magazine contained a scathing article entitled "The Treason of the Senate" by David Graham Phillips. It showed how Depeew and Platt had occupied seats in the U. S. Senate where they misrepresented the State of New York and acted merely as paid agents of the trusts and Vanderbilt lines of railways, hired by them as much as their butlers were hired to serve them at the table. Any one with a spark of self respect would resign their seats with the roar of public clamor that is going up, but these two men are hardened in iniquity and will never resign until their terms are out.

The April number of this magazine contains the second installment of "Treason of the Senate". It deals with Aldrich, "the head of it all." Vastly more important, therefore, is this account than that of Senator Depeew. Mr. Phillips has shown himself to have an excellent grasp on the subject, as the following summing up of the present situation in the Senate will show:

"Various Senators represent various divisions and subdivisions of this colossal. But Aldrich, rich through franchise grabbing, the intimate of Wall street rober barons, the father-in-law of the only son of the Rockefeller—Aldrich represents the colossal. Your first impression of many and conflicting interests has disappeared. You now see a single interest, with a single agent-in-chief to execute its single purpose—getting rich at the expense of the labor and the independence of the American people. And the largest head among the many heads of the monster is that of Rockefeller, father of the only son-in-law of Aldrich, and his intimate in all the relations of life.

"There are many passages in the Constitution in which a Senate, true to its oath and mindful of the welfare of the people and of the nation, could find mandates to stop wholesale robbery, and similar practices.

"And yet what has the Senate done—the Senate with its high-flown pretences of reverence for the Constitution? It has so legislated and so restrained from legislation that more than half of all the wealth created by the American people belongs to less than one per cent of them: that the income of the average American family has sunk to less than six hundred dollars a year; that of our more than twenty-seven million children of school age, less than twelve millions go to school and more than two millions work in mines, schools and factories.

"And the leader, the boss of the Senate for the last twenty years has been—Aldrich!

"In vain would the interests have stolen franchises, in vain would they have corrupted the public officials of States and cities, if they had not got absolute and unshakable control of the Senate. But with the Senate theirs, how secure, how easy and how rich, they look."
